How Graeme Can Help You

In a turbulent and fast-changing world it's vital to have clear insights on what is changing, why it's shifting and the impact these changes will have on you and your business.

Working with the team at TomorrowTodayGlobal, Graeme develops strategic insights into disruptive change and what organisations need to do to thrive in the near future. He has done so for nearly two decades.

Understanding the key macro drivers of change will allow you to be:

- more strategic
- more innovative
- more agile

The Results

Clients that have applied Graeme's insights have seen significant improvements in their businesses, especially in areas of strategy development and implementation, leadership effectiveness, team dynamics and the application of technology to innovation.

Graeme helps his clients to harness the opportunities inherent in the disruptive changes we're all experiencing right now. He custom-designs each engagement to ensure his clients get precisely what they need, from keynote presentations to leadership programmes and online resources.

Track Record

Graeme's international experience and depth of knowledge makes him highly relevant in today's rapidly evolving business world. Along with his formal qualifications (5 degrees), research credentials (a number of research awards and four best selling books), he has a wide range of business experience (he worked for KPMG, was involved in an IT startup, and is now a successful entrepreneur).

Graeme has been voted 'Speaker of the Year' by the Academy for Chief Executives and has been inducted into the "Speakers Hall of Fame" of the Professional Speakers Associations of South Africa and the UK and Ireland. He has shared the platform with the likes of Edward de Bono, Sir Ken Robinson, Neil Armstrong and Kofi Annan.

Edu-tainment

Employing an interactive style, laced with multimedia and a gently rebuking humour, Graeme works with a select group of clients in over 20 countries each year, and is sought after by business schools and executive development programmes in every industry.

Graeme has established himself as one of the world's leading platform presenters, leadership development experts, and board advisors on the people aspects of the future of work.

The Team

Graeme Codrington is an expert on the future world of work and the disruptive forces that are shaping it. But he doesn't work alone.

Together with the team at TomorrowTodayGlobal, Graeme is able to provide not just keynote presentations and workshops, but also longer leadership development programmes, online resources and bespoke interventions to ensure that his message sticks and makes a real difference to his client's bottom line.
